We've Got What It Takes

When school began in early September, students entered the school door and discovered that many changes had occurred. Not only had the staff increased, but so had the student-body, one of the largest in the past decade. "Walking the halls between classes was a challenge," remarked one junior, "not to mention the long lunch lines."

There were other changes as well. The math department began the year with new IBM computers. The English department had a new chairman, Mr. Roger Plunkett, and foreign lanugage had expanded.

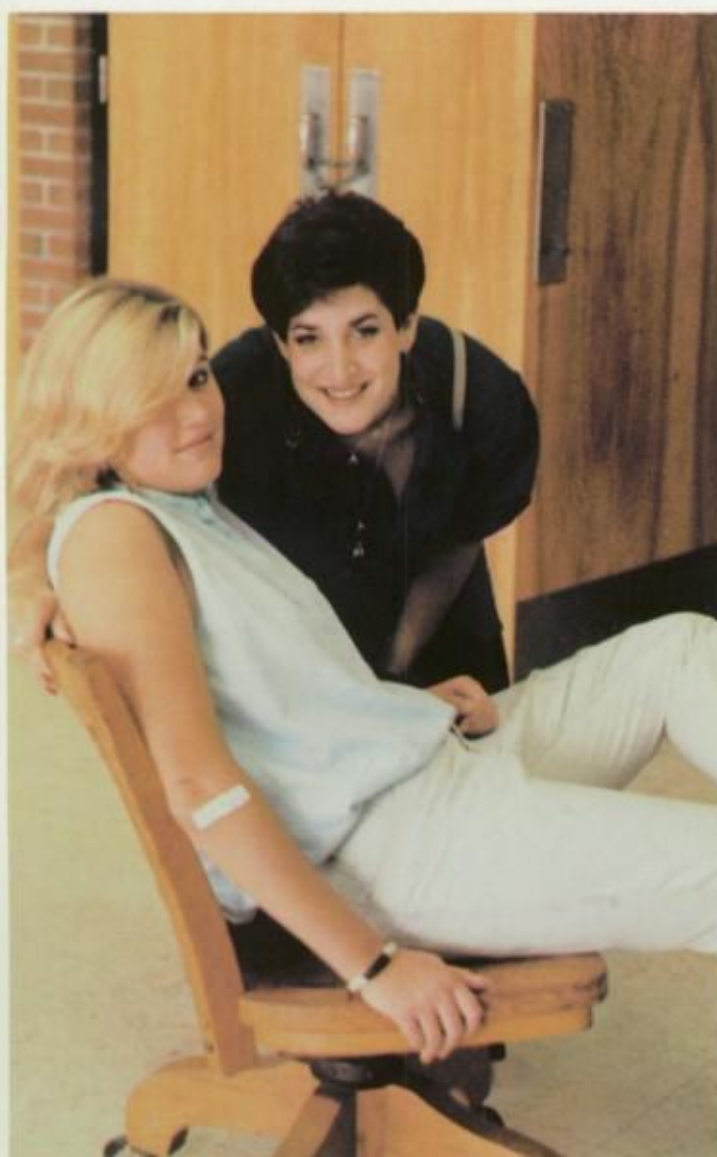

The sophomores had the largest class, followed by the freshmen, juniors and seniors, respectively. Regardless of the class sizes, everyone seemed to take pride in Howard High. There was a great sense of dedication, loyalty, and pride, and everyone realized that Howard High was a unique school.

Waiting to receive the serve, Eric KClauss and Tommy Nichlos share a laugh.

Happy to have a break, Ms. Fabian prepares for her next class.

A Day of Remembrance

Homecoming Sparks Year's Events

Saturday, October 13, dawned early for most Howard High students and faculty. Although it was cold and the threat of rain was present, everyone had a great time participating in and watching the various Homecoming activities.

The Homecoming Day activities began with the annual Homecoming Parade which started at Locust Park and ended at the school. The marching band, Lionettes, cheerleaders, JROTC, and the Homecoming court were featured. Next on the day's agenda was the football game.

The Howard Lions, under the field direction of captains Drew Malloy, Rod Flynn, and Robert Cassell, attempted to hold back the Centennial Eagles, but lost by a score of 26 to 13.

During halftime, the floats paraded around the track. With the theme "Soaring Above the Rest," the class of '88 won the float contest. The day ended on the right foot with the traditional Homecoming Dance.

Dancing The Night Away

Friends Reminisce and Dance to their Favorite Music

The excitement began to build a week before the dance. The students signed a petition so that they would dance to the music of their favorite D.J., Randy Dennis, from V103. The dance was held in the very elaborately decorated gym. Denise Brown, the Homecoming Queen, and her court were honored at the dance, which was the grand finale to a fun filled day. Everyone present, including graduates, enjoyed meeting up with old friends. The S.G.A. and P.T.S.A. were responsible for planning the evening. Thanks to them, the dance was a tremendous success.

Smiling from ear to ear, Min Cho enjoys his Homecoming night.

Getting Into the Spirit

Everyone Adds to the Puzzle

Spirit week helped kick off the new school year by showing a lot of involvement and pride. The week started off with Pajama day; students did not even have to change before coming to school. Next, they sported their summer's best during Beach day. Nerd day brought out some interesting appearances. During Kindergarten day some Howard High students reverted to diapers, Cabbage Patch dolls, and teddy bears. The week concluded with the traditional Blue and White day. This day allowed students to display their togetherness.

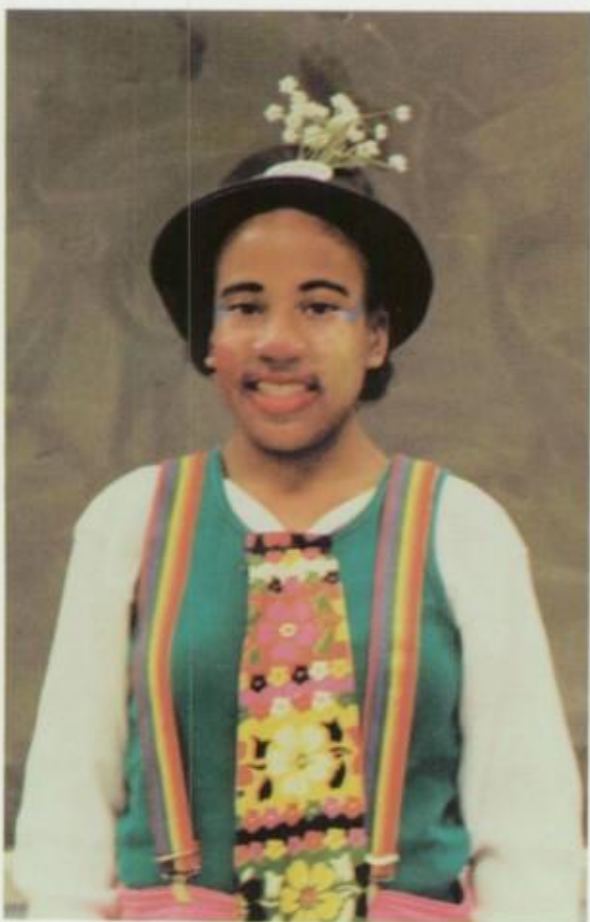

Other events featured during the week included a balloon sale sponsored by the junior class, a spirit link contest won by the class of '89, and an enthusiastic pep rally, which displayed the talents of the J.V. and Varsity cheerleaders, the band, the Lionettes, J.R.O.T.C., and the Pep Squad.

Helping Out

That's What Friends Are For

What is a friend? Someone who is loyal, trustworthy, and fun to be with. Everybody has a friend, as evident while walking down the hall or peeking in a classroom. Friendship is an important part of life. You can find friends together in classes, during the break, in advisory, between classes, or at lunch. You can be yourself when you are with them. It's great to be with your friends. It is like taking a break from the hectic day. Right: On their way to class, Hollie Pakulla and Melanie Fuller stop to smile for the camera. Above: Quickly gaining new friends, Demetri Nicholson enjoys the company of Craig Gontkovic and Craig Castella.

The best of friends, Dina Singer, Nancy Brenowitz, and Lisa Fienberg enjoy each other's company in advisory.

Always together, Laura Madachy, Jill Brockett, Lisa Weiner, and Laura Capella relax in the halls.

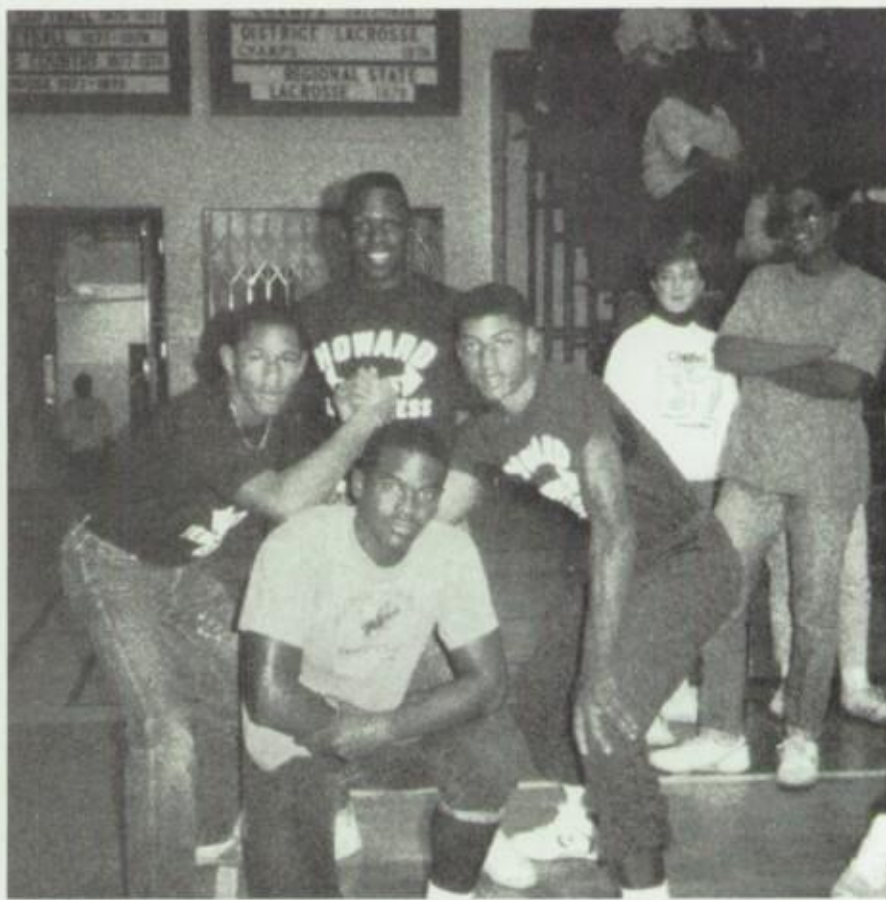

This group of friends typifies the popular song "That's What Friends Are For".

These three friends stop on their way to class to have their picture taken.

Friends, Amy Lambrect, Suzanne Frye, and Kate Duffy, share a few final moments before graduation.

Jarrold Lloyd, Doug Hogan, Brian Payne, and Jeff Kerr are members of an exclusive club, EMC.

Mike Krupinsky, Sheila Gauldin, Ms. Fabian, and Eric Buarque lunch during class.

A Great Success

"I'll Be Back Before Midnight"

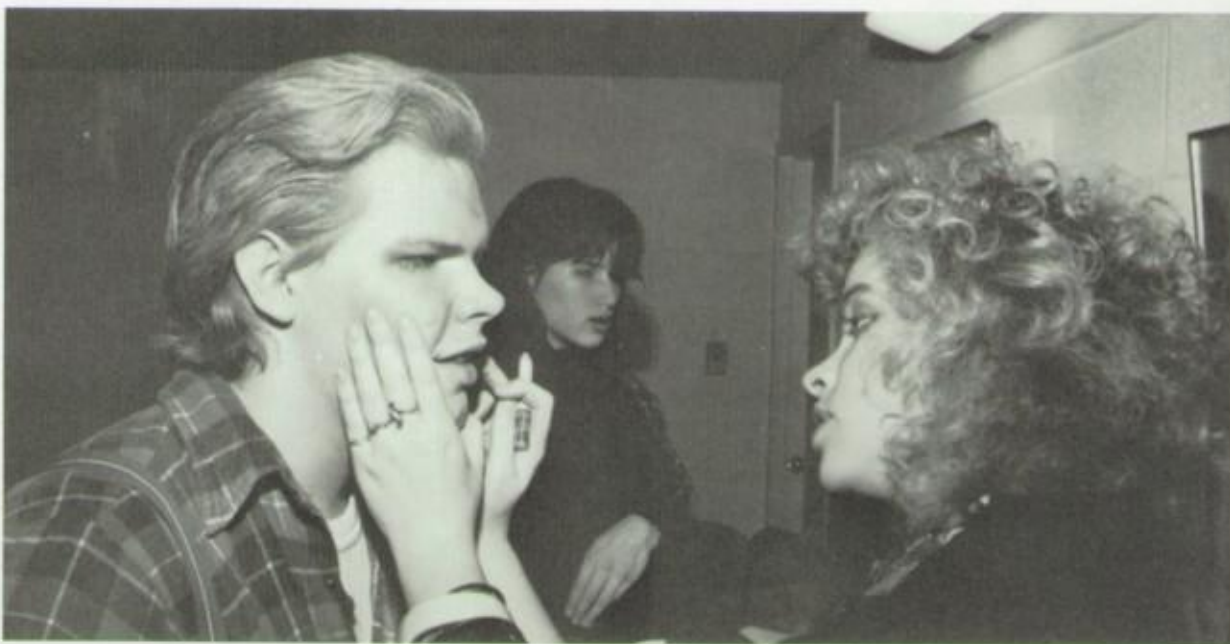

On November 21 and 22, Howard High presented, I'll Be Back Before Midnight. It was a thrilling, "who done it" mystery that managed to bring screams of terror and fright from the audience, due to the excellent special effects.

The cast consisted of only four members. Senior Vicki Mundy played Jan Sanderson, just released from a mental institution. Sophomore Adam Tobin, as Greg Sanderson, Jan's husband, and Junior Dave Aberding, George Willoby, plot together against Jan to make her insane. Director-Producer Kurt Thompson, along with his assistant director Patricia Ellis, found it easy to work with the cast since it was small and each cast member had had previous theater experience.

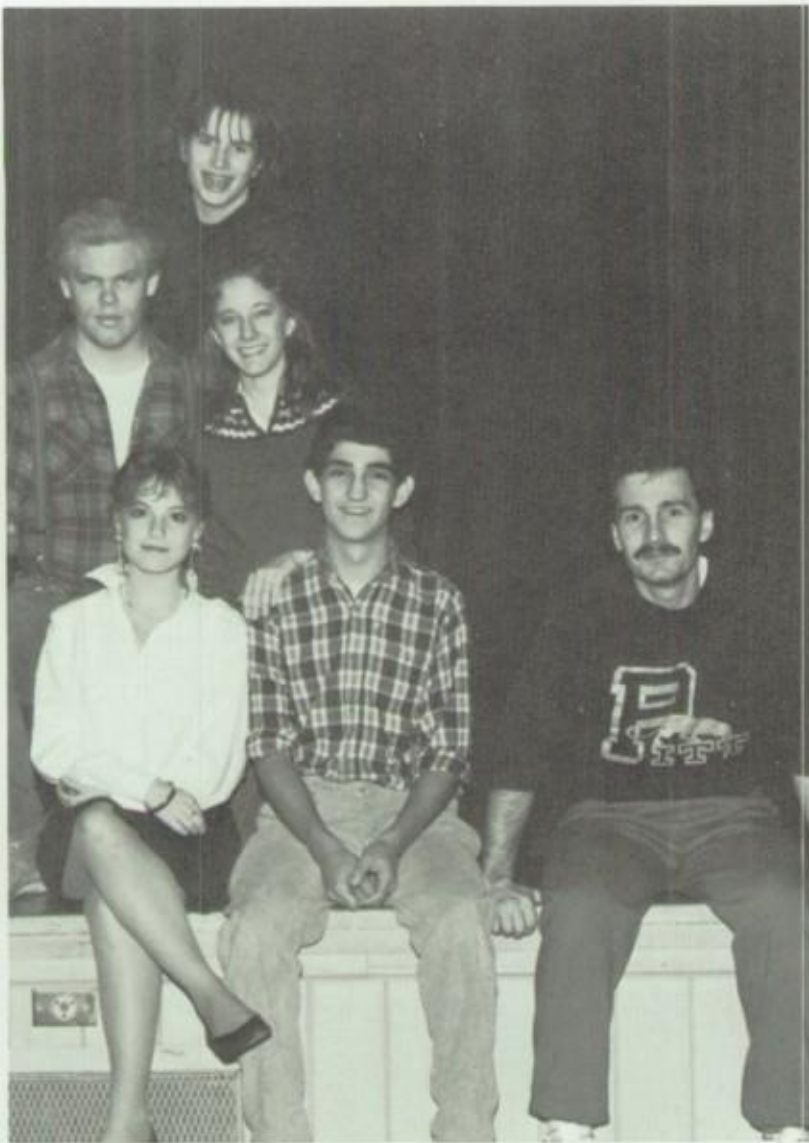

The play turned out to be a great success. Over 300 tickets per performance were sold, a record crowd for the fall play.

As Jan looks on, George shows her an article about the murder that happened long ago.

With the help of Dawn Ortel, Dave Alberding prepares for his performance.

Dunkin' Donkeys

Man vs. Beast

The Third Annual Donkey Basketball game was held on November 25, 1986. This exciting game, sponsored by the Journalism Department was a great success. The donkeys and their riders provided much entertainment for the parents, teachers, students and friends who filled the gymnasium. "The games get more and more exciting," commented Junior Trevor Kalbaugh who served as game announcer and coordinator along with Travis Carter. As they were bucked off, fell to the ground, and tried to get back on, the riders were left with an unforgettable experience. The teachers and seniors both played well as the crowd mostly of students cheered continuously for the seniors. The teachers pulled off the victory in the last five seconds with a score of 54-50.

Showing Off Talent

Holiday Concert Draws Large Crowd

The Holiday Concert was held on December 17, 1987. The Choir and Madrigals under the direction of Mr. Rick Lawrence and the Symphonic Band and Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. James Johnston were brought together to show-off the special talents of all these groups.

The Holiday Concert was the first concert for new choir director Rick Lawrence. Mr. Lawrence did an exceptional job with both Madrigals and choir. The choir prevailed in excellence with songs Ave Marie, The Music of Goodbye, Jamaican Noel and The Chipmunk Song.

Senior Jonathan Rubin performed solo during the selection "Christmas Rapsity." With so much outstanding talent, the Howard High music department proves superior to all others.

Singing to the Chipmunk Christmas song, Jamie Scalese, Pete Warner and Brian Cugle captivate the audience.

Singing in unison, the Madrigals take the spotlight.

Dazzling the audience, the choir concludes its program.

Singing to Come Again, Kathy Hendrix delights the audience.

Senior Richard Vale on drums displays his special talent.

Contributing her talent, Kathy Burdick plays "A Christmas Fantasia."

Junior David Gregor is enthralled by his music.

Captivating the audience, the Concert Band is unstoppable.

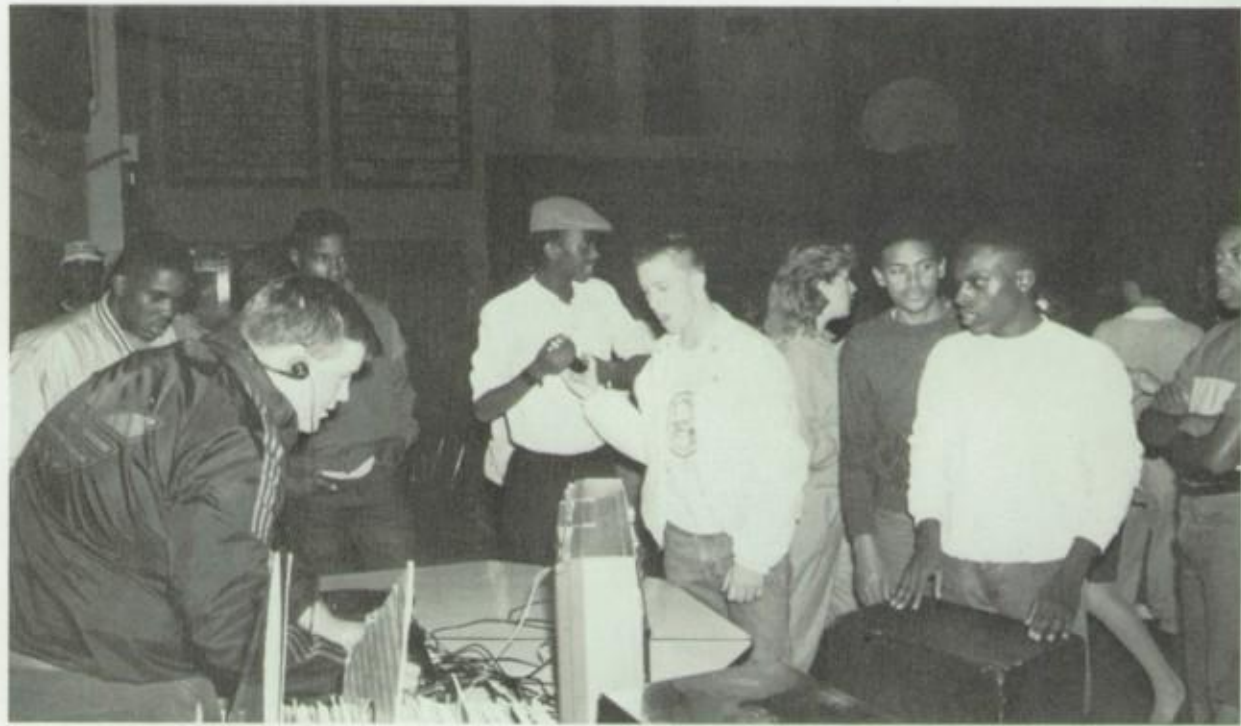

Concentrating on his music, Mike Kerr plays his bass.

Getting Into The Holiday Spirit

Seniors Sponsor The Holiday Dance

The Holiday Dance, held on December 12, 1986 was sponsored by the Senior class. Although many people attended, the dance definitely had its problems! The D.J. for the evening, V-103's Randy Dennis, showed up on time, but his sound equipment never did! Mr. Dennis finally left, unable to play any music. The dance seemed to be a disaster until Richard Drake, a 1986 graduate, showed up with his sound equipment to save the day! Soon, everyone was on the dance floor having a great time. The Holiday Dance turned out to be a success after all, putting all who attended in a festive mood for the upcoming holidays.

Saving the Holiday Dance just in time, graduate Richard Drake sets up his sound equipment.

Can I Get a Ride?

Students Travel In Style

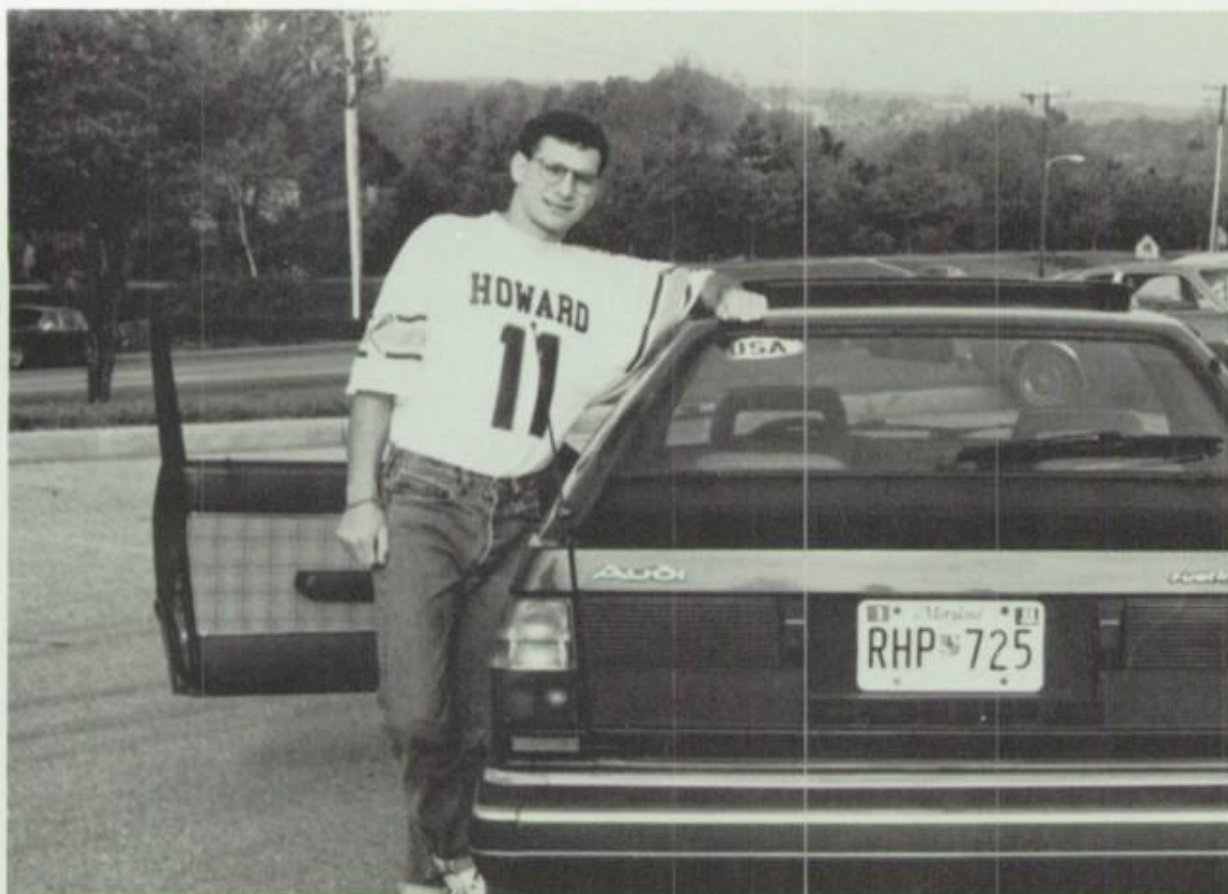

Students at Howard have several methods of transportation. They walk, ride the bus, run, drive their parents car, drive their own car, or bum a ride from a friend. The methods are varied, but the most popular by far is your own car. With luck, even the underclassmen will end up with their own set of wheels. On a typical day, the school parking lot is filled with every type of car imaginable from a volkswagan to a mercedes.

SHOWCASE ' 87

A Night in the Spotlight

Six hundred people entered Howard's auditorium on Saturday, February 7 to watch their friends and family members perform in the traditional talent show known to everyone as "Showcase."

The show was emceed by Mr. Kirk Thompson and Mr. Dave Vezzi for the fourth year straight. These two provided the audience with an exciting array of comedy between each of the acts. The wide variety of talent in the school was represented by different individuals from all grades. Performers such as Jenny March, Kathy Hendrix, and Dave Alberding even enlightened the audience with two songs.

The biggest surprise of the evening came when Freshman Katie Brader started rocking the audience with her rendition of the title song "New York, New York." Renee Saunders and Esti Nugraheni each gave their own style of dancing, while Hal Neat and his crew entertained the audience with a comedy act entitled "The Lumberjack Song." Other participants in the show were Laura Heyman, Mr. Kirk Thompson and a duet by Shelly Harkum and John Cunningham.

Displaying extraordinary stage presence, Kirk Thompson sings "At This Moment".

Renee Saunders executes the "Wop" dance to the up beat sound of Salt & Pepper.

Anna Gannon and Storia Sruthers sing "My Guy" while dancing side by side in perfect sync.

Laura Brader sings "New York, New York."

Hal Neat and the rest of the lumberjacks sing the comical "Lumberjack Song" from Monte Python.

Jenny March's voice captures the audience's attention as she sings "Somewhere."

Reviving A Tradition

The Orioles Defeat The Faculty

On January 6, the Junior class sponsored a basketball game featuring the Baltimore Orioles vs. the faculty. Orioles stars Cal Ripken Jr., Jim Traber, John Shelby, and Ken Dixon were among those who played.

The gym was filled to capacity with screaming fans. From the start of the game, there was never a dull moment. At half-time, the fans were entertained by the Oriole Bird, and the players signed autographs for their fans. The Orioles dominated throughout the game, and won by a final score of 97-83. According to Mr. O'Connell, "We surprised the Orioles and gave them a pretty good game. There is always next time."

Muscling past the defense, Mr. Thompson goes for the hoop.

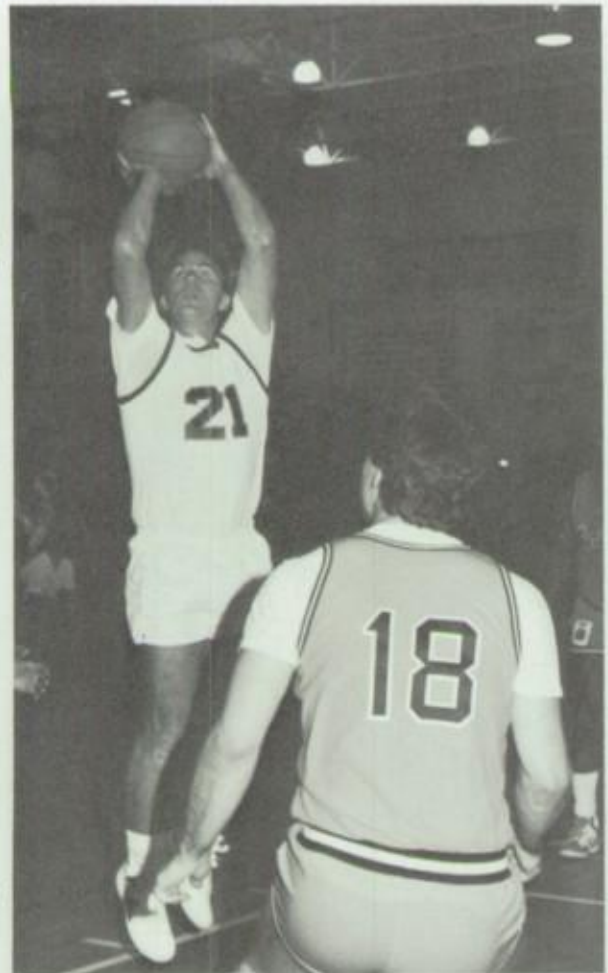

Doing what he does best, Coach Braodus shoots over the Orioles' defender.

Cheering for the home team, Mrs. Christy, Mrs. Pausch, Mrs. Kerr, and Mrs. Siracusa, the newest cheerleaders, pose with the lion.

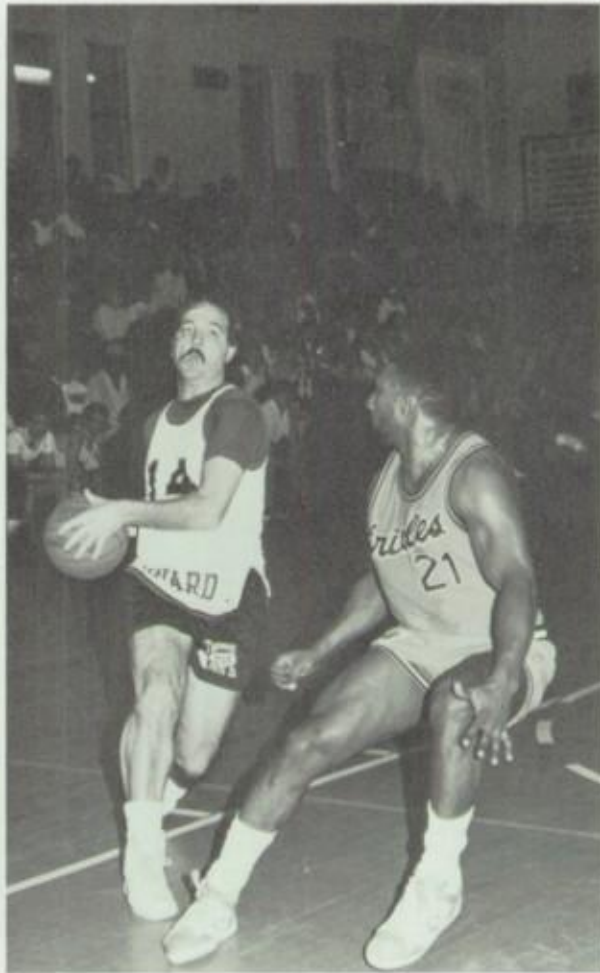

Soaring over the defense, Mr. O'Connell scores two more points.

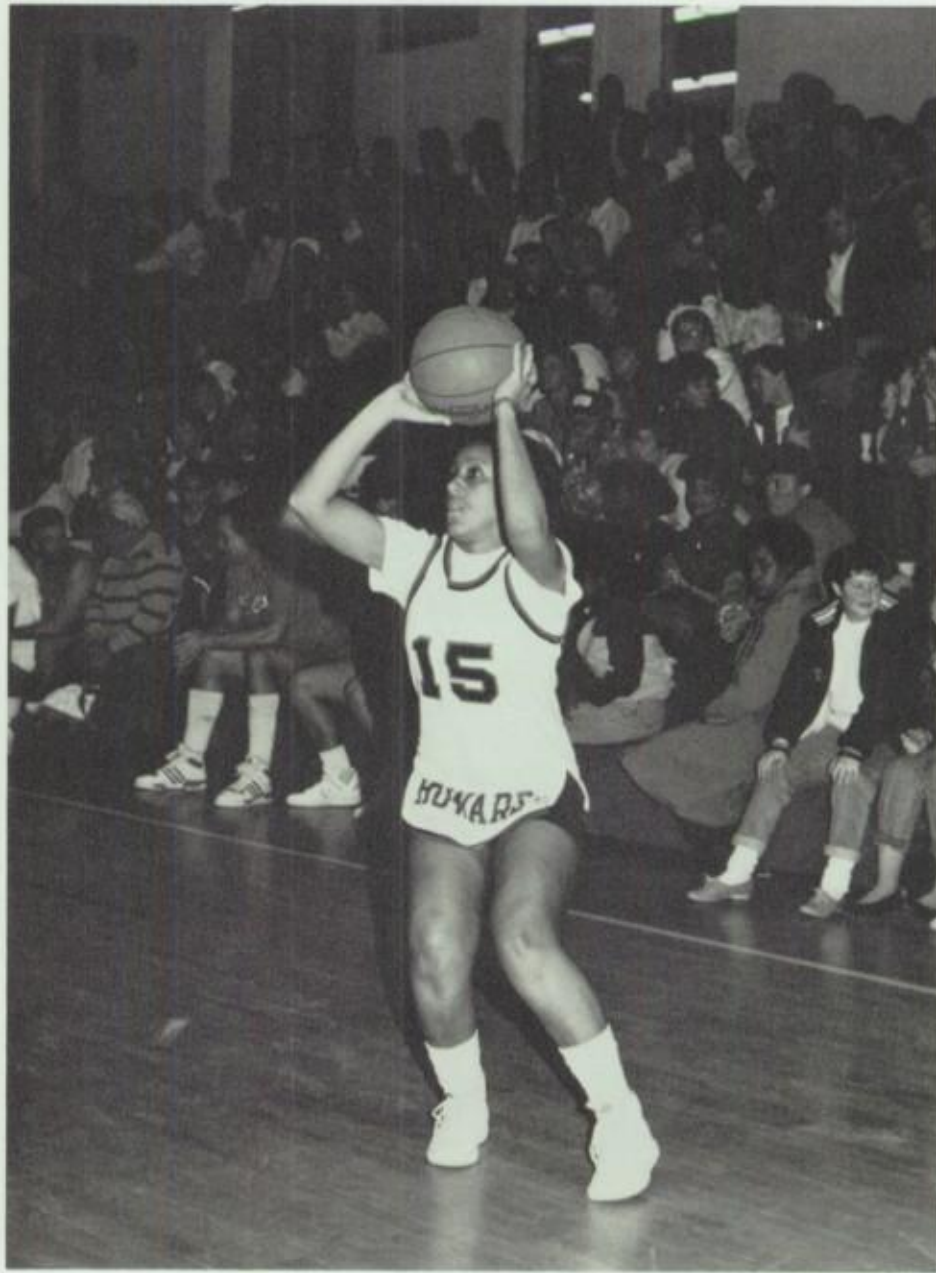

Smiling at the camera, the Oriole Bird and the Howard Lion wave to their fans.

Taking it all the way, Mr. Trani is determined to score two more points.

Dancin', Jammin', & Rockin'

Seniors sponsor last dance

On March 15, the Senior Class, under the direction of Mr. Dave Ditman, sponsored its last dance, the Spring Dance. The seniors were able to obtain a free disc jockey since there were problems with the music company at the Holiday Dance. The crowd was not as large as expected, but those who came had a good time. "We had about 100 people," remarked President Kathy Hendrix.

Most students find that coming to the dances with their friends is the best way to have a good time.

"Getting down," Renee Saunders dances with Jarrod Lloyd.

With a "chain" of dancers, Jodie Segal and Carlton Morris join in the fun.

"Mirror, Mirror on the wall. Whose the fairest of them all?"

Dancing All Night Long

Spirit Shines At Morp Dance

The Annual Morp Dance had a small, but enthusiastic turnout. The dance, sponsored by the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders, has been one of the students' favorite dances because it gives the girls the opportunity to ask the guys out for the evening. It's a simple role reversal which everyone seems to enjoy.

The music was brought by a local disc jockey who played a wide variety of music to suit everyone's taste. It was a rarity to find any of the 200 students sitting down. The floor was constantly filled with students trying out the new dances. In short, the MORP was very successful.

Freshmen and Sophomores link up to show one of the new features of Howard dances.

Show Biz

Bye Bye Birdie Hits Howard's Stage

"Bye Bye Birdie," the annual spring musical, was held on Thursday, March 26th, Friday, March 27th, and Saturday, March 28th. Under the general direction of Kirk Thompson and student director Hollie Pakulla, the play was a huge success.

The show co-starred Pete Warner as Conrad Birdie, a rock star, but revolved around the love story of Birdie's manager Albert Peterson (Adam Tobin) and Rose Alvarez (Kathy Hendrix).

Rose wants Albert to become an English teacher. When Birdie is drafted, Albert and Rose decide to send him off with "One Last Kiss." They choose Kim MacAfee (Jenny March), a member of Birdie's fan club in Sweetapple, Ohio, to receive the kiss. Other stars of the show were Katie Brader who played Albert's mother Mae, Vince Glorioso as Hugo Peabody, Kim's steady boyfriend, and Patricia Ellis and Dave Alberding as Mr. and Mrs. MacAfee. The show broke record crowds and was one of the first times that a spring musical had run for three days. For the third consecutive year, Principal Eugene Streagle made a guest appearance in the spring musical.

Prom '87

Students Enjoy Night Of Elegance

The annual Jr.-Sr. prom was held on May 1, at the Turf Valley Country Club. Music was provided by The Look, and the theme was provided by a popular Billy Joel song, This is a time to hold onto. The junior class sponsored the dance of 300 people. Prom king and queen Jeff Kerr and Tracie German were crowned on the prom's gazebo. It was one of the most successful proms ever given by Howard High, thanks to the junior class and its sponsor Mrs. Massaquoi.

Growing In Excellence

NHS Gains 27 New Members

The National Honor Society is the most prestigious academic organization in the school. To qualify for acceptance, a student must have at least a 3.33 grade point average and have three letters of recommendation. Extra curricular school activities, community service, and leadership ability weigh heavily as criteria for selection. Of the many applications, 27 new members were inducted.

The induction ceremony brought parents and students out in force. National Honor Society officers Kim Clarke, Jonathan Rubin, Cassandra Sparrow, and Rod Flynn gave short speeches on the four personality factors each inductee must have: service, character, leadership, and scholarship. The ceremony was followed by a reception in the cafeteria. It was an unforgettable night.

Watching his step, Kyle Mathews takes the stage at the induction ceremony.

Government's Future

Tomorrow's Leaders Start Here

The Student Government Association was active promoting school spirit and participation. With the help of their sponsor, Mr. Rodney Savoy, the S.G.A. was successful with The Back-to-School Dance, held in September. The S.G.A. provided a way for communication between the students and the administration. The officers worked hard and did a nice job of keeping students aware of school functions, rules, and activities, as well as keeping the administration aware of the students' wishes and needs. Music Program Keeps In Tune

Under the guidance of two relatively new directors, Mr. Mark Ulrich (strings) and Mr. James Johnston (band), the music program has been steadily improving. The concert band performed its annual winter and spring concerts exceptionally well. They also played for Baccalaureate, graduation, and the State Band Adjudication, where they received an overall rating of excellent. The band also hosted the District Band Festival and the marching band performed throughout the football season.

The school orchestra combined with members from Atholton High School to play at both the winter and the spring concerts. The group also played at the Columbia Mall and received high rankings at the county adjudication. Cody Coggins, David Schlanger, and Jason Dillinger were accepted into the prestigious State Orchestra.

After months of preparation, Mr. Johnson leads the band in its holiday concert.

"Tom, they are the new cheerleaders, the Pep Squad. You know they cheer among the crowd and encourage the Lions to victory!" This is just one of many conversations that Howard High students had about the new Pep Squad. The squad's sponsor was business teacher Teresa Waters who did an excellent job helping the Pep Squad achieve their high status around the school. The captains were Junior Tonya Ryan, Seniors Lorraine Moore and Desire Kelly.

Roaring With Spirit

Lionettes Prove Practice Makes Perfect

Have you ever been to a football game, and, instead of getting a hot dog at half-time, stayed to watch the Lionettes? If so, then you know that they have worked very hard to make every routine as perfect as possible, practicing two hours every day after school. The Lionettes not only provided entertainment at football games, they were also a major contributor in boosting the spirit of the school. "They are really good," remarked Junior Jason Dillinger.

Growing Strong In Number

Outdoor Travels to Lake Placid

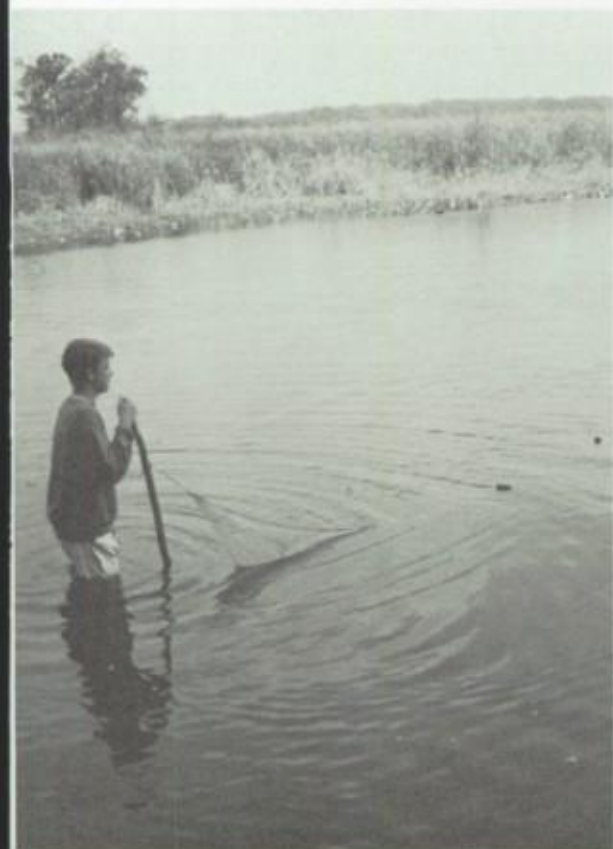

The Outdoor Club set no records for number of trips this year, but the few events they did sponsor were successes. There were a few small biking expeditions, with Mr. Vezzi really enjoying tackling the gravel, literally. The major trip of the year was a ski expedition to Lake Placid. After being snowed in for a day, the students were able to experience true Olympic skiing. Conditions for the trip were perfect once they escaped Columbia's blizzards. Some students even dared to ride the Olympic bobsled. This year's Outdoor Club was a true success.

Concert Choir

A Program of Excellence

This year's Concert Choir was led by new director, Mr. Rick Lawrence. The choir preformed and received a grade of "excellent" at the choral adjudication. Many fundraiser were held throughout the year to help the choir members pay for their trip to Myrtle Beach. The choir brought home grades of "excellent" in concert choir, girls choir, and men's choir. With Mr. Lawrence's guidance the choir had yet another great year. "I have really enjoyed my first year at Howard," remarked Mr. Lawrence.

The 1986-87 Math Team, under the direction of math teachers Fran Albert and Rodney Savoy, had an exciting year full of fun and hard work. The team started out the year with county competitions, where they went up against all of the schools in the county. They did well in these meets, and gained a lot of experience which they did not previously have. Traveling to the state competition proved to be a good experience for the members, also.

These students improved their advanced math skills while having a good time. As one member put it, "Being on the team has given me a chance to show my enthusiasm for math, and I've met many interesting people who have the same interests as I do."

Working against the clock, Tiffany Rodney and C.J. Lambrecht rush to finish a trigonometry problem during a county competition.

Gaining Knowledge and Skill

With returning advisers, Mr. Donald Lewis and Ms. Linda Durey and key players Bruce Levine, Calvin Matthews, and C.J. Lambrecht, the team was eager to begin the new season. Each of the members of the It's Academic Team put forth time and effort to increase their knowledge in such categories as mathematics, literature, science, and various forms of the arts. The team played against Boys Latin and Edgewood High Schools, and though they lost, they learned from the experience.

Mr. Lewis exclaimed, "This has been a hard working team, and we are all very proud of them." Right: Bruce Levine, Calvin Matthews, C.J. Lambrecht and Ms. Linda Durey pose with the representative from Giant Foods and the host of It's Academic.

Working Under Pressure

Yearbook Staff Puts Pieces Together

As one of the largest yearbook staffs in recent years, twenty-three dedicated staff members worked hard putting together a historical record for the school. From selling ads to organizing a donkey-basketball game, students found that the work never stopped. "It wasn't usual to find us working in the yearbook room after 6:00 on many evenings," said Junior Mark Melton. Not only was the staff large, but it was also youthful. There were only two remaining members, Tiffany Rodney and Frank Rich, editors. "What they lacked in experience, they made up in hard work," quoted Frank Rich.

Leaders of the Future

Cadets Experience Real Leadership

During its third year at Howard High School, the Army J.R.O.T.C. Battalion has become an active and beneficial organization within the school. The battalion participated in more activities benefiting the school and the surrounding community than ever before. These activities have included : participation in the homecoming parade, guides for graduation, traffic guards for races around Columbia, assemblies in the school, a Civil Defense exercise, and many other extracurricular activities.

News in the Making

Journalism Takes on New Image

With a new adviser and a larger staff, The Lion's Tale proved to be highly professionalized. Unlike previous years, students received The Lion's Tale free of charge. This was attributed to the new Macintosh Plus computer. The staffers also designed coupons and handouts for various small businesses which also helped in the reduction of the cost for the newspaper. The staff grew in size to an industrious thirty-three members. Few problems arose between the two classes. A total of eight editions of The Lion's Tale were published, and for the first time color was added to the Senior Edition. The newspaper staff also sponsored a journalism forum entitled "The Role of the Media Today." The program featured local television and newspaper personalities and was attended by every high school in the county. "Being a Lion's Tale staff member was not only fun," said Robert Ha, "but also rewarding."

Students Seek Help In Writing Center

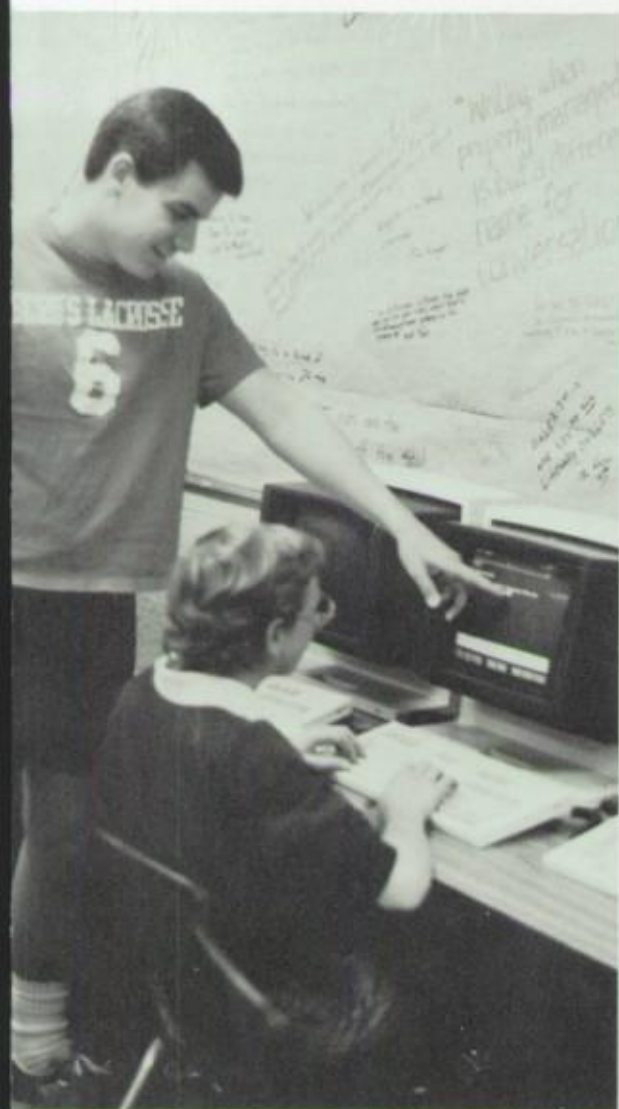

For the second year, "The Write Place" was in operation from October to May. The center was designed to assist students with their writing skills in all classes. Since passing the Maryland Functional Writing Test became mandatory for all 9th. and 10th. graders, some students who had not passed the state test were able to get assistance. Most students attended "The Write Place" to use the computer or just to relax.

Taking A New Direction

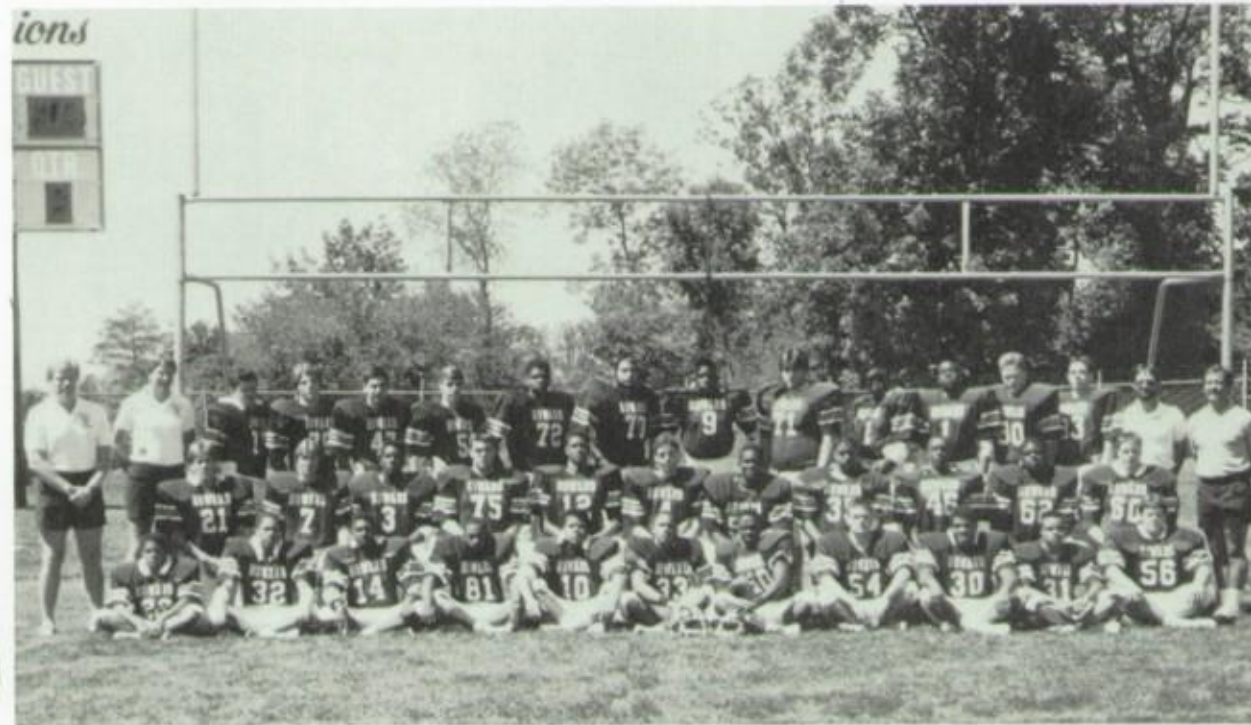

Varsity Football Tries To Achieve New Goals

By watching this year's Varsity Football team, one could tell that they were trying really hard to win. Although they did not win many games, the players put forth a good effort. The team's new style and technique were the diligent work of the new coaches, John Quinn, Tony

Trani, Steve Pfister, Kirk Thompson and Chuck Bragg. Outstanding performances were contributed by Rod Flynn, Doug Hogan, Paul Cavanaugh, Jonathan Tucker, Robbie Cassell, Russell Walters, Leonard Anderson, Craig "Applejack" Ryan and Drew Malloy. The Lion's spirit and morale were maintained by team captains Rod Flynn, Drew Malloy and Robbie Cassell. The evening games attracted almost sellout crowds; the fans were very anxious to see just what the new coaches were all about.

J.V. Football Kicks Off a Successful Season

With a record of 6-2, the JV Football team had a very successful year. The team's two greatest strengths were its aggressive, strong defense and its running attack. Outstanding players Hanif Omar, Mel Rollins, Donny Thomas, and Mike White contributed to the team's success. Working under a new coaching staff, the team ended its season with an impressive defeat over the Glenelg Gladiators, scoring 13-6. "I was very proud of the JV Football team and impressed with their overall record," Coach Toni Trani exclaimed.

A New Era

New Coach Brings Winning Spirit To Varsity

Under the direction of first year coach Rudy Storch, Boys Varsity Soccer advanced its record to 4-6-2. The team was led by Captain Chris Buckley. Other outstanding players were Whitney Keiller, Mike Kowalski, and David Bower. Record crowds came to see the team play against their opponents, and most were pleased with the players' skill. "We're looking for Howard," exclaimed one parent, "to become county contenders in soccer."

The team's most exciting game was against Atholton where after being behind at half-time 2-0, Howard came back to tie 2 to 2 in the closing minutes of the game. When asked how he would describe the team, Jason Dillinger replied, "The team had a lot more heart than our record showed."

The Season That Could Have Been

Team Displays Great Potential

The Girls Varsity Soccer team had a trying year, ending with an overall record of 2-9. Although the team had an overpowering defense, they failed to have a successful season due to their lack of offense. "The competition was so much better...Some games we should have won but due to basic errors on the field, we lost," said Coach Green.

The team was led by Captains Lori Stuart and Toni Breland. The most valuable players were Senior Lori Stuart, Sophomore Jody Taylor, and Sophomore Renee Jefferson. "Even though the record did not show it, the team was the most experienced and displayed the most potential," sighed Coach Green.

J.V. Puts Best Foot Forward

Team's Unity More Rewarding Than Record

Jenny Wilson displays fancy foot work as she heads for the goal.

The Girls J.V. Soccer team had a sweet and sour season. Although their overall record was 1 and 7, they worked together as a team throughout the entire season. "This was definitely a learning year for everyone," said Coach Sherman.

The girls remained winners on the field because of their ability to play any position on the team and winners off the field since they maintained a sense of unity and team spirit. This kind of kinship resulted in a victory in their most difficult game against the Glenelg Gladiators.

When asked which team members were most outstanding, Coach Sherman replied, "There were no real most valuable players and no one player stood out from another. It was more the concept of 'the team' than anything else; that alone was most important."

Playing to Win

Varsity Field Hockey Plays With Determination and Pride

Lacking the skill and experience of many of their opponents, Howard Varsity Field Hockey used their team's pride and determination to guide them through the season. The varsity squad was led by spirited Seniors Laura Capella, Laura Marquette, Liz Dove, Jocelyn Kalmer, Marnie Russo, and Val Peoples. Their best game came against a strong Holy Cross squad. The younger Howard team was able to come away with an upset victory. Starting Sophomore Andrea Nichols summed up the season by saying, "We went out there with a good attitude, but we lost a lot of close games that we could have won with more experience."

Sticking Together

J.V. Spirit Shines Through Difficult Season

The Junior Varsity Field Hockey team was led by the aggressive play of Captains Melissa Kalmer, Jennie Pallozzi, and Ashley Williams. The team came together with a strong defense and posed a threat to many of the more skilled county teams. Most of the team's games were very suspenseful and drew large crowds as The Lady Lions remained strong contenders. Freshman Jeanna Penn adequately summarized the season by saying, "The J.V. team captains set a good example for all of us."

Spiking To The Top

Lady Lions Rally For Victory

With the supervision of Coach Kevin Broadus and elected Captain Rosemary McNiff, the Junior Varsity Volleyball team had an optimistic outlook to the season. It may not be revealed in the final scores but the team had great spirit and a positive attitude. Some great moments in the season were the defeat of both Glenelg and Hammond. The Glenelg victory was regarded as the best because it was one of the most difficult games for the Lady Lions. Leading the team were Captain Rosemary McNiff, Kim McClain, April Chenier and Katie Brader.

A Winning Combination

New Coach and Dedicated Players Form Great Season

After a slow start, the team's hard work began to show as the county season started. An early upset over Wilde Lake set the stage for an exciting season. The majority of the games were decided by 10 points or less. Co-captains Adrian Hodges and Craig Ryan led the team in scoring and rebounding. Both were honored as 1st TEAM ALL COUNTY selections. Sophomore Woody Nicholson provided a much needed spark and was rewarded with a 2nd TEAM ALL COUNTY selection. A heart breaking 1 point loss to Centennial (a team they had beaten twice that season) in the quarter finals of the playoffs typified their exciting season. Dedication and good sportsmanship from all of the players played a big part in the success of the team

Girls Basketball Improves County Record

With only three returning players, the Girls Varsity Basketball team improved its county record. La-Tonya Breland, Tammy Kendall, Cassandra Sparrow and newcomers Kathy Farley and Michele Gay were key players on the team. The team's biggest win came against Glenelg when Michele Gay scored the winning two points at the last second bringing all the spectators standing on their feet.. The team played hard against other county schools but could not place in the top three. "We worked hard," remarked Cassandra Sparrow, "and we had a good group of players."

Gaining control over the ball, Tammy Kendall scores twenty points during the game.

"Our team worked hard and played well. Everyone tried her best, and that's what counts."

J.V Girls Basketball Ranks Higher In League

The Girls J.V. Basketball team improved immensely. The Lady Lions did not win as many games as they could have due to their inexperience. The team overcame this disadvantage with the help of new coach Cathy Cardillo. Exceptional players were Sarah Nolan, Tyeast Clark, Brigid Condon, Jenny Wilson, Beth Kristenson, Steffi Rausch Angela Jones and Robin Harshman. Each girl played an important role in every team victory. "We played well together as a team," remarked Steffi Rausch.

Wrestlers Break Four Year Losing Streak

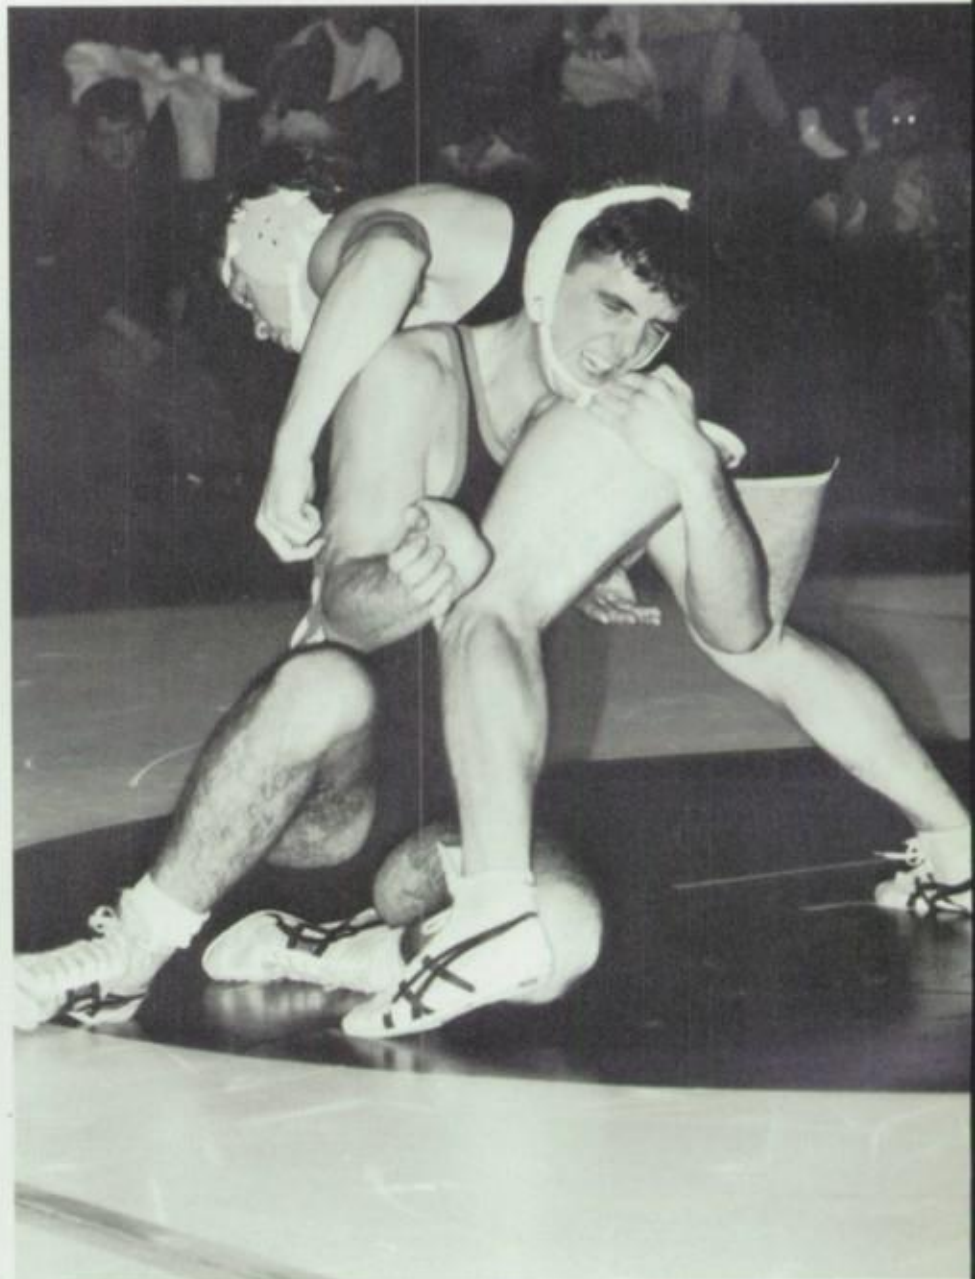

This year's team obtained a lot of first year inexperienced wrestlers. Because the team lacked many weight classes, the Lions often had to forfeit individual matches; thus, giving other teams a big advantage. Previously wrestling had been considered an individual sport, but this year the players worked together as a team.

After struggling against Centennial, the team came back to win one of its most exciting matches. This win prompted a 2-5 county record which broke the team's four year losing streak. Team captains, Rob McCarthy and John Cavallaro, and other valuable wrestlers, like Robert Gregory and Gary Silvius, played a big part in guiding the team through its victories.

Scoring Goals

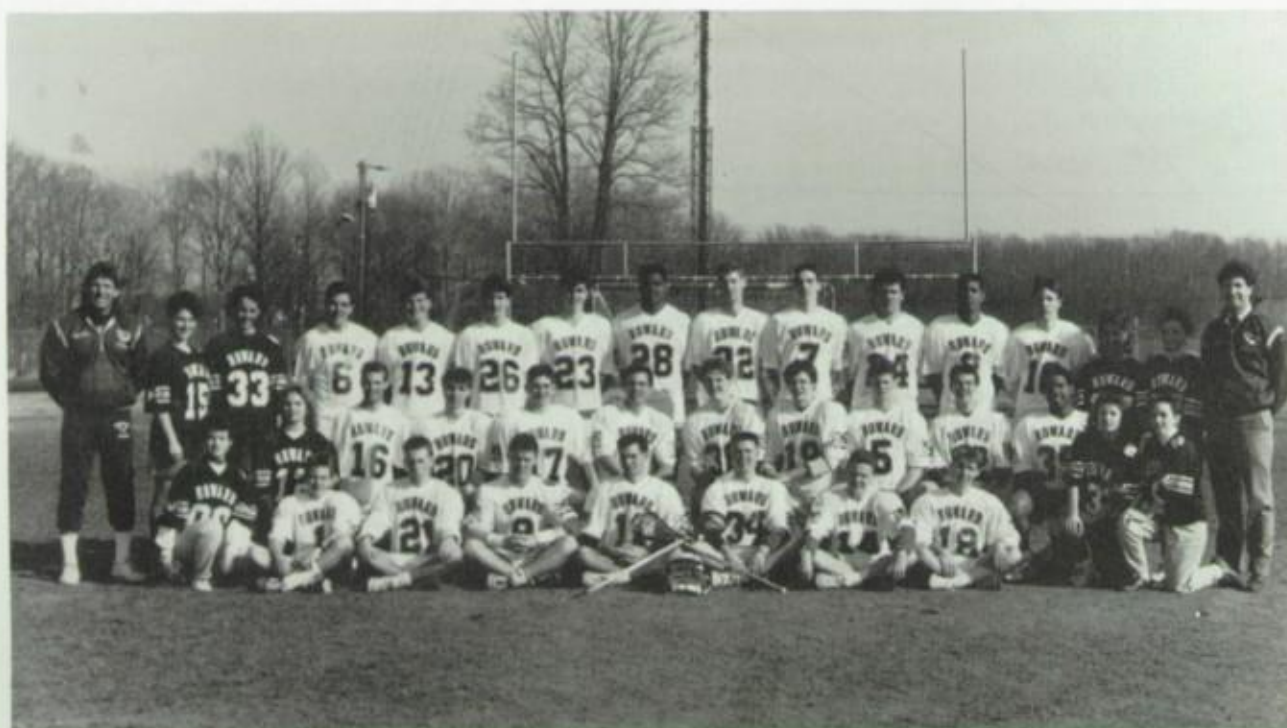

Varsity Lacrosse Does Its Best

In past years, the Varsity Lacrosse team has done their best to "Be The Best." Although this year they didn't quite achieve this goal, there were still many things that the team had to be proud of. Team unity and spirit among the players prevailed during the season, as was shown through their hard work during practices and games. High scorers included Seniors Matt Moore and Jim Bradley. Senior goalie Earl Cole had over 150 saves for the season. Senior Peter Raup won the Best Defensive Player award at the annual Awards Assembly for lacrosse, and Junior Billy Haywood won the award for Best Offense. Matt Moore also won Best All-Around Player.

The team did dominate their out of county opponents, and despite the team's losing record in the county, the team tried their best and had a building season.

Young Enthusiasm Sparks New Life

Under the direction of first year coach, Mark Carter, the J.V. Lacrosse team finished with a record of 6-6. Leading the team in scoring were Tim Simons with 23 goals and 6 assists and Mike Rice with 16 goals 13 assists. Heading up the defense was Michael White with over 80 saves in goal. According to Captain Tim Simons, "The most memorable game was against Centennial where we had to overcome a three goal deficit to win in overtime on a goal by Kit Young."

The Boys Varsity Baseball Team were members strong contenders in the county. With outstanding players such as Seniors Mike Hatfield, Robbie Cassell, and Ronnie Spicer, the team played outstanding ball and showed that they were not a team to laugh at. During the first half of the season, the team went 2-5, but in the second half they won five of the last seven. Beating several of the top teams in the county was one of their several accomplishments. Even though they beat the county champs the team could not put it all together to make the playoffs. Despite their 8-9 overall record, the team played well and had a lot of enthusiasm. "Our record did not reflect the quality of our play or the fun we had playing together," commented Senior Eric Claus, who was injured for part of the year.

Going To Bat

J.V. Maintains Booming Bat

Despite a 6-10 overall record and a 5-9 in county record, the J.V. Baseball team proved they were a force to reckon with in the county. The team played well together and gained much experience. Outstanding performances were turned in by Vernon Ko, Greg Lee, and pitcher Steve Dickey, who not only led the team's pitching staff, but also played outstanding offense. The team had many outstanding plays in the field, and when they combined that with their outstanding offensive attack, they were unbeatable.

Cheerleaders Excel In Competition!

The 1986 Football Cheerleading squads began their seasons early by attending summer camps at College Park. Having never had a chance to practice together, and with only three returning members, the J.V. squad did very well. Earning ribbons for spirit, most improved and giving 100% they took all they learned home with them and had a superb season! The Varsity squad attended camp in August where they were greeted by unbearable temperatures nearing 100 degrees. Despite severe sunburns and lack of sleep due to the heat in the unair-conditioned dorms, the Lions Varsity squad placed second in the Grand Champion Competition!

Preparing for a Profitable Future

Students Gain Experience at Vo-Tech.

Throughout the day, many students leave school to attend the Howard Vocational Center in order to learn a valuable trade. Four miles from Howard, Vo-Tech provides students with significant work experience and on the job training in such areas as cosmetology, horticulture, data processing, auto mechanics, and many more. According to Senior Karen Kroll, "I enjoy the hands on experience that I receive at VoTech." VoTech is a great asset to many students because it teaches students how to prepare for the job market and the real world.

Removing the oil filter from this car, Roger Barker concentrates on doing a good job.

Enrolled in a plumbing repair class, Joseph Cisna completes a major project.

Attempting to fix a damaged walkman, Edward Gray checks out the electronic components.

Making sure he doesn't drop those meatballs, Grafton Howard completes a food's assignment.

Gaining Experience

Students Learn About Industry

Industrial Arts is a class in which students receive hands-on-training working with many different tools of industry. It provides practical experience for students planning to enter the work force after high school. Important skills are learned that provide students with the knowledge of how industry works. Without this important class, many students would not receive the experience needed to get a job after graduation.

Aiding with an assignment, Mr. Roger Marshall shows the proper way to finish a project.

Finishing his bookcase, Craig Persinger sands out the rough spots.

Using his skills, David O'Neill completes a masterpiece.

Staying In Shape

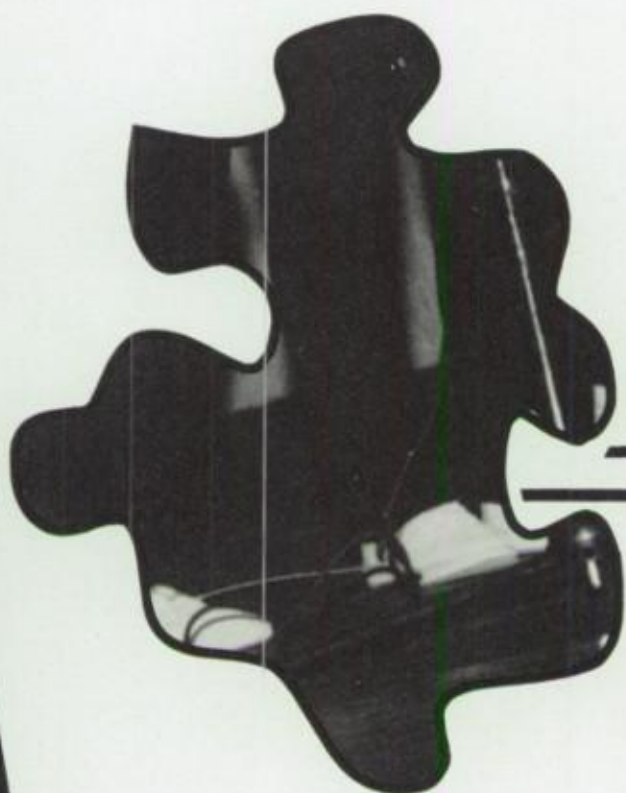

During spring, Physical Education students enjoying going outside to play tennis and other outdoor sports.

"Are you ready for this ace?" remarked Leonard Anderson as he prepares to serve to Barry Parker.

Playing a new sport, students enjoy indoor soccer which is growing in the county.

Faculty

Giving Their All

Who are the most dedicated workers in the world? The Howard High faculty is, of course. The faculty is not only dedicated to providing a quality education, but also to being a friend to every student. Their concern for the students is shown through their assistance in any possible way. We are lucky to have such talented faculty members here at Howard.

Getting their hands dirty, Mr. Streagle and Mr. McGregor clean up the school's seal.

Always lending a helping hand, Mr. Payne completes his daily paperwork.

Working with the Senior class, Mrs. Ruppel prepares to meet with a student.

Seniors

During class competitions, seniors cheer on their classmates at a pep rally.

One of the smallest senior classes in recent years, the Class of 1987 will always be remembered for its uniqueness. Class officers, under the guidance of new senior adviser Dave Ditman, held many activities and fundraisers, including two dances. Although it rained on the senior ski trip to Seven Springs Ski Resort, everyone seemed to have had a good time. Most seniors were active in extracurricular activities, and 32% of the senior class were on the honor roll during the year. "We were not able to raise a lot of money," remarked Jimmy Bradley, "but we left our mark on Howard." Right: Class Officers: Kathy Hendrix, President; Brian Payne, Vice-President; James Bradley, Secretary; Peter Raup, Treasurer.

Getting ready for an exciting evening students pay attention to Mr. Strea-gle.

Cruising The Harbor

Seniors Dine on Board Port Welcome.

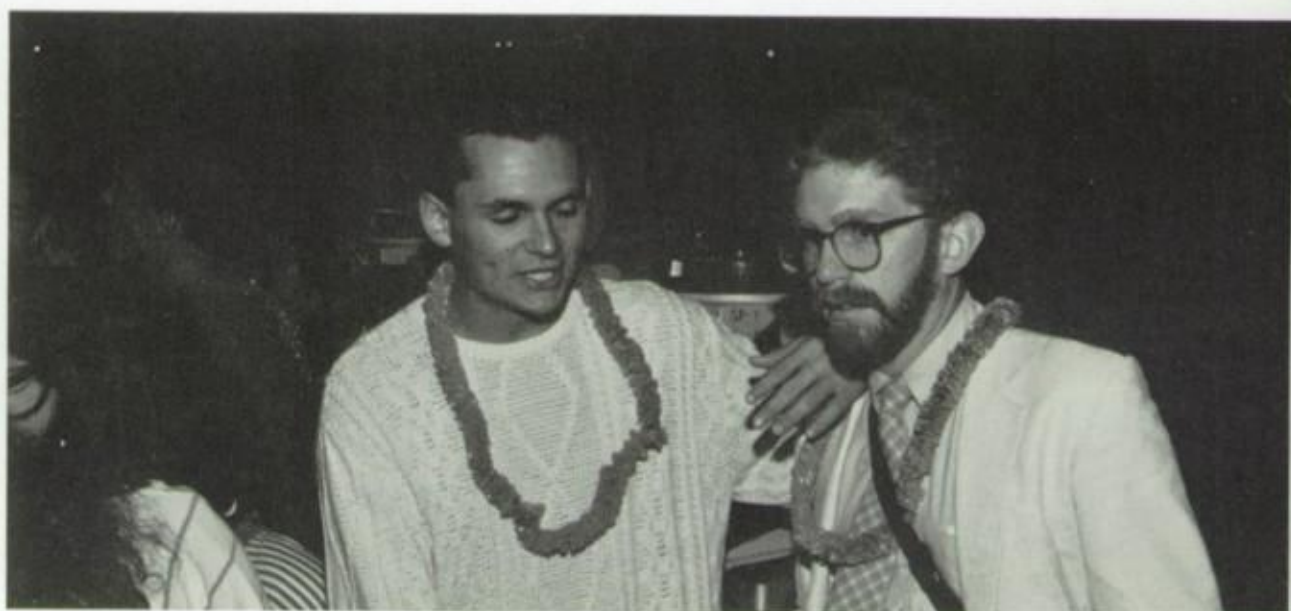

Friday, May 15, was a day that will live forever in the memories of the Senior Class. After a smooth launch of the Port Welcome from Baltimore's Inner Harbor, Class night was underway. As the close of the evening neared and the ship docked, all that remained were wonderful memories of the evening and of high school.

Watching anxiously, Seniors prepare themselves as Port Welcome casts off.

Showing their spirit, faculty members dance.

"I'm sorry, Randy, but you just can't do that!"

Embracing themselves, Robert Williams and Jill Brockett enjoy the evening.

Students enjoy the buffet style dinner.

"Hey bud! Where's the party ?

Hey guys, nice ties! Below: Looking at beautiful downtown Baltimore from Port Welcome are Sean Regan and Jennifer March.

Seniors enjoy dinner and prepare for the upcoming festivities.

Trying to decide who to dance with, Brent Anderson can't make up his mind.

Do you see something I don't see ?

Hey look! Is that a shark ?

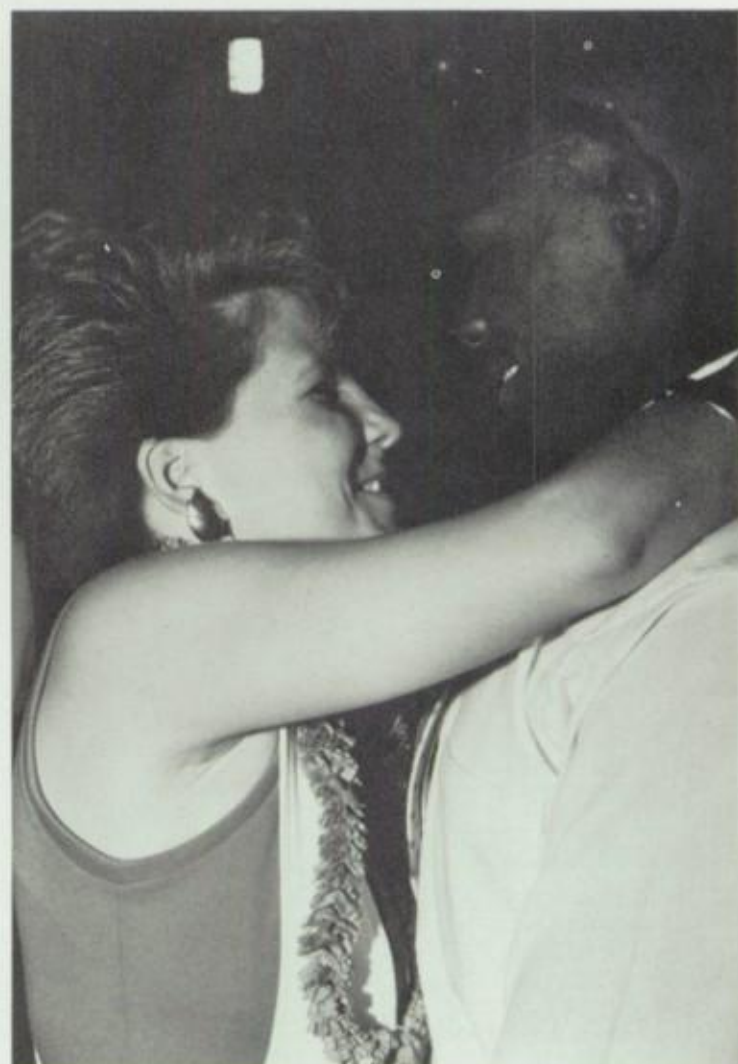

Enjoying their last few moments together, the Class of '87 will always remember their Class Night.

"Hopefully the food will be better next year," says Patty Kafka

Spirited Seniors party throughout the entire night.

Enjoying the evening, Brian Payne and Patricia Kafka share a mystery dance.

Sharing in a humorous conversation are Tracie German and Gloria Pilkerton.

"So you really think that you are going to make it?" chuckles Mr. Green.

Dancing the night away are Brent Anderson and Malinda Long.

Seniors applaud at the traditional slide show that brought back many memories.

Baccalaureate '87

Words of Wisdom

The Annual Baccalaureate Service was held on Tuesday, May 26th. in the school auditorium. The program began with the Senior Girls Ensemble singing an opening selection. Afterwards the Senior Choir sang "Let's Celebrate." Both Michelle Allen and Rod Flynn read from the scriptures, and Mrs. Lawrence sang "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow." The message was given by Mrs. Thelma Wilson. Overall the program was a great success.

Listening to Mrs. Charles Wilson give the Baccalaureate message, Kate Duffy, Amy Lambrecht, Dawn Ortell, and Melissa Fuller focus on the speaker who told the class to find something to believe in.

Reading from Ecclesiastes 3:1-9, Rod Flynn, SGA President, gives the class a final word of advice. "The program was nice and short," remarked Rod who is known for his eloquent public speaking.

A very cooperative member of the yearbook staff and "Write Place," Michelle Allen reads from Proverbs 8:1-12. "I was very impressed with the program," remarked Michelle. "Everything was very meaningful."

Far Left: Prior to Baccalaureate, the school hosted the tenth annual Senior Awards Program. Mr. Ditman presents an art award to Liz Dove for best painting.

Three of the school's talented choir members, Kathy Hendrix, Hollie Pakula, and Jenny Felice sing "The Lord's Prayer." As usual the girls did a great job.

Amused at the speaker's message, Melissa Fuller and Vicky Mundy share a few final moments together.

A Last Farewell

The 35th. Annual Commencement was held on Thursday, May 28th. in the school auditorium. Earth Science teacher Mr. Ed Nawrocki gave the faculty address to the graduates with a speech recounting many memories and telling the graduates to strive for their goals. Class Vice-President Brian Payne gave the student address, challenging students to use their talents and experiences to make difference in the world. Evening Sun columnist Dan Rodericks gave the commencement address with a touch of humor. Mr. Rodericks told the seniors to find something to fight for and conquer it.

With parental joy, Chemistry teacher Mrs. Gertrude Kerr congratulates her son Jeff Kerr who completes four artistic years at Howard.

Congratulating his son, Assistant Principal Bill Payne hands Brian Payne his diploma.

Announcing the graduates, Bill Payne addresses one of Howard's largest commencement audiences.

Smiling from ear to ear, Laurie Hoffman realizes that school is finally over.

At the end of the ceremony, graduates wait for the benediction by Rev. Charles Wilson, Sr.

Proudly displaying her honor sashet Laura Brader is ranked in the top 5% of her class .

As Senior Class Adviser, Mr. David Dittman bids the class farewell.

Dr. Joan Palmer, Assistant Superintendent, offers words of advice to the graduates.

Receiving her long-awaited diploma, Jennifer March is one of the school's most talented graduates.

"Graduation was a great success.
We tried a lot of new and exciting things, and they worked well."

Mr. Dave Ditman
Senior Class Adviser

Addressing parents and guests, Katherine Hendrix makes her last speech as Class President.

Singing the "Star Spangled Banner," Mr. Kirk Thompson is one of many faculty members who assisted with graduation.

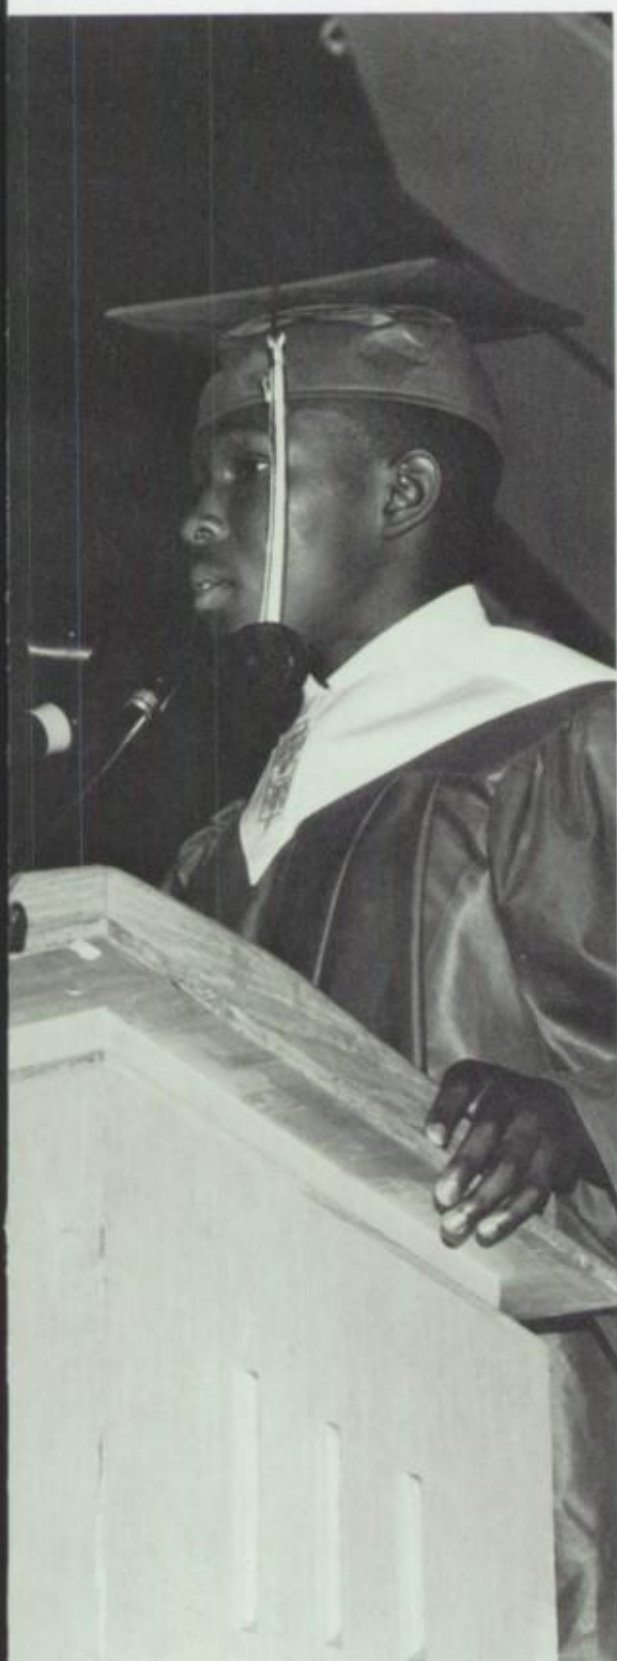

Smiling for a picture before graduation, Jennifer March and Jill Carter try to keep their nervous feelings inside.

Shortly after the processional Angela Page and Ammie Moore wait for the ceremony to begin with the invocation.

Challenging his classmates to make a difference in our changing society, Brian Payne bids farewell with a powerful and poignant speech.

With Mr. Kirk Thompson singing The National Anthem, The Howard High School JROTC Color Guard presents the National Flag.

Sharing his wisdom, Principal Eugene Streagle addresses the audience by advising the seniors to tell their parents how much they love and appreciate them. Mr. Streagle thanked the seniors for their excellent behavior during the commencement practices.

REACHING NEW HEIGHTS

FRESHMEN FACE NEW CHALLENGES

Have you noticed the Freshman class? If you are over five feet, you might not have. This year's micro-people have come on strong in the beginning of their last four years of school. The Freshmen jumped into the swing of things by sponsoring many successful fundraisers. They were not intimidated by the social and academic challenges of Howard High. Under the guidance of class sponsor, Ed Nawrocki, the class had no trouble surviving their new way of life.

One Step Up

Sophomores Take Active Role

The Sophomores enjoy their second year as they take one step up from being freshmen. They worked closely with their class sponsor, Mr. Riegel as they became more active in school activities and sponsored many fundraisers. Such fundraisers were the selling of Turkey and Holiday Grams.

The Sophomore class officers April Motley, Michelle Bobart, Jennie Pallozzi, and Jennifer Bragg helped their class to have a very successful year. The sophomores were visible at most dances and supported athletic events. "We're making plans now," said April Motley, "so that we can have the necessary funds when we become upperclassmen."

After completing his assignment, Eric Thompson watches as Ernie Beck finishes his work.

Climbing to the top

The Junior Class, under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Massaquoi and the leadership of the class officers, had a very successful year. The Howard juniors quickly demonstrated their unity and enthusiasm by holding a profitable balloon sale during Homecoming week and then by winning the float competition. Next, as a fund raiser, M&M candies were sold, raising almost $2000 in profits. The juniors also sponsored a basketball game between the Baltimore Orioles and the Howard faculty. "My goal for the year," remarked class adviser Mary Massaquoi, "was not only to raise funds, but also to make the year a memorable one for all juniors. Working with the Junior Class has been a rewarding experience." Other money raising events were held throughout the year in order to sponsor the Junior-Senior Prom. The dance was held at Turf Valley Country Club and will be well remembered by all who attended.

One Junior commented "It's great not to be an underclassman anymore. We've all grown so much; now it's really beginning to show."

TO: ROD FLYNN

1969-70

1986-87

During the past 17 years, you have grown in so many ways. Whether in the classroom, on the football field, fulfilling an important leadership role at school, in the community, or at home—you have reached for and achieved your goals with such dedication, commitment and compassion. We are extremely proud of you, and it is truly a blessing for us to have you as a son and a brother.

Our message to you for the future is as follows:

May your heart be filled with happiness as you follow your special dream . . .

And remember that life is a continuous growth process—
always attempt to make the best better.

We are confident that you will be a competent and dedicated physician and will make many outstanding contributions to the field of medicine. We love you very, very much and wish you the best of health, true happiness, and peace of heart and mind.

Congratulations and thank you for being you!

With all our love,

Mom, Dad and Guy

Congratulations
Class Of 1987!

When disasters strike close to home, you can be there to Guard it.

You don't have to go far away or give up civilian life to help protect your country. You can do it right at home as a member of the Army National Guard.

Trained to be a partner of the Army in national defense, the men and women of the Army Guard put their training to work protecting their towns and states in all types of emergencies.

You can be a part of this important team. It takes two days a month and two weeks annual training. You'll be paid well for your time, and receive valuable free training in one of many technical skills. You may also be eligible for college tuition assistance and more great fringe benefits, including low-cost life insurance, post exchange privileges, limited space available air travel and an excellent retirement plan.

You'll be keeping the Army Guard strong. And if disaster strikes close to home, you'll be there to Guard it. Be a part of America at its best. Call your local Army Guard recruiter today.
